Registrar's Notice

All students who expect to graduate in January, June, or August 1950 are asked to file a request for a senior check list at the Registrar's Office during the week of May 23. These check lists will be compiled over the summer months and will be ready by the opening of the Fall term.

No check list can be prepared for anyone who will have less than 96 credits by June since the check off is meaningless below that number of credits.

Mikemen March Sun. Hear Budenz Speak

St. Michael's College students will join in the mammoth Holy Name parade Sunday afternoon in Burlington.

All Michaelmen have been asked by the Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, president, to meet at Battery Park at 2 to join the parade to the Memorial Auditorium where Louis Budenz, former editor of THE DAILY WORKER, will give the main address.

In a letter to the students this week, Father Lyons expressed the hopes that the Michaelmen will equal the impressive showing they made when the statue of Our Lady of Fatima was welcomed to this area last fall. At that time 1000 students marched from the Winooski bridge to the college and then on to the Fanny Allen Hospital.

St. Michael's College banners will be carried by the Michaelmen as they join with Catholics from all over the state.

In his letter to the students, Father Lyons noted that the request had come from the Most Rev. Edward F. Ryan, bishop of Burlington, who had never refused a request from the college to appear for any student or college gathering. The meeting is not obligatory, but all are expected for the parade after which study for exams can be resumed.

Elect Class Officers, NFCCS, SAC Delegates

Some 600 Mikemen went to the polls last Wednesday, and when the smoke had cleared they had chosen, for better or worse, their class officers for the coming year as well as their NFCCS, and SAC delegates.

Proportionally, about two thirds of the school voted. Since the Senior Class didn't take part in the balloting there were about 920 students eligible to vote.

Barring any miscount the class officers and the NFCCS delegates are now definitely sure of their positions. The final selection of the SAC delegates, however, will not take place for several days.

Each class has nominated six men for the Student Council.

Three of these will be chosen by the SAC electoral committee. This committee is made up of the presidents of next year's three upper classes, as well as Father Moriarty, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Studies and one lay member of the faculty.

Of the three men chosen, one will serve for two years and the others will serve for one year. In coming years all SAC delegates will be elected for two years.

Class officers chosen in Wednesday's election were:

Those selected for next year's Junior class were: Joe Shea, president; Bob Canavan, vice-president; Don Naples, secretary; and Bill Hart, Treasurer.

The men who will lead the way for the class of '50, will be, President, William Deignan; Vice-President, Jack Dobbys; Secretary, John Dudley; and Treasurer, Clem Shaw.

NOMINATED FOR SAC

Between the three classes, 18 men were nominated for SAC. These include: Sophomores Bob Sullivan, Jim Fitzsimmons, Bill Kenney, Jerry Hallinan, Ed O'Hagan and Bill Timbers. Fitzsimmons and Kenney have been freshman members since mid term.

Junior Class nominations included Whit Bartlett, Ed Markey, Tim Murphy, James Whitlock, Joe Fogarty and Tom Breen. Breen and Fogarty were members of the SAC during the past year.

Glee Club Elects

After Busy Weekend

The 1949 Senior Weekend opened Friday afternoon, May 13, with a reception by the College Glee Club. Informal dancing was enjoyed from 4:30 to 6:00 in Austin Hall.

The Glee Club under the direction of John Scrabulis and moderated by Prof. William Burke offered three selections, "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Dance My Comrades," and "Deep Purple" while Michaelmen and their guests were received by members of the faculty and their wives.

Buffet lunch was served with the main attraction being a huge 25 pound cake trimmed in orchid and gold. Trinity members of the Choral group acted as hostesses for the lunch. The hall was decorated with a combination of apple blossoms, carnations and greens.

Saturday night at the Knights and Knaves sponsored informal dance the Choral group of the Glee Club sang three more se-

Barnet Controversial Jrs. Release Budget

Some 300 Mikemen and their dates danced in Memorial Auditorium last Friday night, in the successful climax to months of work by the Junior Prom committee headed by George Rodden.

Opinions of Charlie Barnet's orchestra, of course, differed. One of the most frequently expressed opinions was however, that Barnet placed too much emphasis on 'be-bop' at the expense of the sweet and soft music which he reputedly now includes in his repertoire.

Most dancers were pleased with Barnet's vocalists and enjoyed watching the Barnet aggregation take off on some of the jazzier pieces.

However, some felt that there was just too much of this jazz in proportion to the number of slow pieces.

The outstanding decorating job done on the Auditorium was a result of collaboration between UVM and St. Michael's. The Vermont Junior Class, which held its prom on Thursday night cooperated with Art Fraser and the St. Michael's juniors in the decorating work.

Clem Shaw's financial report of the prom follows:

Delta Mu Has Top Skit With 'Last Judgment'

The traditional Parade of the Horribles was held Saturday afternoon at two, with most of the halls and off-campus houses represented. Held in Austin Hall the skits poked good natured fun at the faculty and some of the College traditions.

Handled by George Cummings and George Dolan the skits proved highly entertaining to the packed partisan house. Though planned to be held in front of Austin Hall the threatening weather which cancelled the morning field events forced the "take-offs" inside.

The Silver Cup for the best skit went to the off-campus Delta Mu house. Their presentation of the "Last Judgment" with Chas. Conway as St. Peter, Bob Lilly as St. Michael, 'keeper of the Purple shaft', Red Lynch as Satan and the celestial "Senior" jury to pass on members of the faculty provided many chuckles. Frank Good was the "Essence of perfection" in his role but Art Coggio of St. John's as a barker took individual honors for his cavorting a la Old Howard.

Saturday night the Cup was presented at the informal dance in Austin Hall by Vin Lawless, president of the Knights &

Knaves, Mrs. Catherine Milligan house mother of Delta Mu, surrounded by a group of her prize winning boys, accepted the Cup. After engraving, the Cup which last year was won by OH 3 will be on display at Delta Mu.

Judges for the parade were Fr. Moriarty, Mr. Fairbanks, Mr. Carr, and Mr. Hannigan.

Dunham Chief Speaker Assumption Band Plays

Sunday, May 15, marked another milestone in the forty-five year history of St. Michael's College as the new $550,000 science building was dedicated to the memory of Father Louis Cheray, one of the men who founded the college back in 1904.

The structure was blessed by the most Rev. Edward F. Ryan, bishop of Burlington.

A speech given by Dr. Franklin Dunham of the radio division of the US Office of Education on the topic "the renaissance of the arts and sciences." At the conclusion of Dunham's talk, Fr. Lyons presented him with a degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

Dr. Dunham then presented the college with a copy of the Vatican documents regarding the creation of the Pontifical Academy of Science by Pope Pius XI in 1936 and the gift of Pope Pius XII through Franklin Gowen, the U.S. charge d'affaires.

Music at the dedication was provided by the Mount Assumption Institute band from Plattsburg, N.Y. The services of the band were offered by Brother Lawrence, FIC, an alumnus of St. Michael's and the principal of Mt. Assumption.

Immediately after the dedication, there was an open house in the building and a buffet lunch was served in the dining hall.

Others on the program included Very Rev. Jeremiah T. Purtill, superior general of the Society of St. Edmund, who praised the memory of Father Cheray; William Freeman, Burlington architect of the firm of Freeman, French and Freeman who described the problems

Almost A College

St. Michael's is almost a college. That at least seems to be the opinion of the Vermont Legislature.

The opinion which St. Michael's students hold of the Legislature was pretty well demonstrated during last week's 'Parade of the Horribles.' Nevertheless it might be in order to discuss why the legislature took the action it did on the scholarship bill.

In words of one syllable here's the scoop on that bill. Since 1937 the state of Vermont has given each year 15 scholarships of $120 each to Vermont students attending St. Michael's.

Meanwhile Norwich has been getting 200, few of which it uses, and Middlebury has been getting 60.

Since St. Michael's has more Vermont students than either of the other two schools, these figures are obviously way out line. In addition, $120 is not exactly a princely sum compared with the high cost of modern education.

With this in mind, Rep. Fred Fayette of South Burlington, a trustee of the college, proposed a bill to have set up 60 scholarships of $400 each. This was compromised with a bill to have scholarships awarded on the basis of the percentage of Vermonters attending each college. In its final form the bill would have provided 60 scholarships of $200 each for Middlebury, UVM and St. Michael's.

Financially St. Michael's gained nothing. It was merely a matter of the state's paying the $200 instead of the individual students. The only ones to gain under this bill would have been the students themselves and the state of Vermont which would have been educating some leaders for its future. Maybe Vermont has plenty of leaders now but 1,000 Michaelmen would give you a little argument on that score.

At any rate this bill was not passed. The killing of the bill brought from Father Lyons a sharp denunciation of the bigotry that influenced some of the voters. "As a Vermonter," said Father Lyons, "I am ashamed."

He had good reason to be. Some support was given St. Michael's by Vermont newspapers. Outstanding in this regard was the MONTPELIER ARGUS which carried two penetrating editorials on the scholarship question. Both Burlington papers also editorialized on the subject AFTER the bill had been defeated.

The BURLINGTON DAILY NEWS in its editorial expressed doubt that bigotry had caused the legislature to defeat the bill. Giving the solons the benefit of the doubt, the NEWS said the bill had been defeated because the legislature had not adequately considered the bill due to lack of time. In other words it wasn't bigotry, it was ignorance.

Finally, St. Michael's was given 30 scholarships of $120 each after Senator Holger Peterson of Burlington - a non-Catholic - introduced into the Senate a bill which appropriated $3,600 for St. Michael's scholarships.

On behalf of the 30 students getting these scholarships, the MICHAELMAN wants to thank the Legislature.

The MICHAELMAN would also like to thank the Legislature on behalf of the 30 students who did not get scholarships and probably, for that reason, will not be able to attend college.

Thank you, gentlemen.

Not The Time or Place

There is a time and a place for everything, as the saying goes. We feel that some political aspirants about the campus should become aware of this adage, for apparently they have been in the dark about it. A social event is strictly just that; an occasion where friends get together to relax and enjoy themselves. It is definitely not the place for a political campaign. It was rather shameful to see at the Junior Prom last Friday a group of grown men acting as if they were at a high school function. However, effective they may have thought their balloon barrage was, it was certainly not appreciated by those present who went to the dance to enjoy themselves and not to be targets of a party stunt. It is very democratic to carry on campaigns during class elections but in the future let's all keep political activities to the proper place and time.

If anyone wants a few pointers on soft ball just see Tom Hannigan ... Tom knows all the answers ... Who were the high and mighty seniors that were not seen at the Prom ... What is that saying, "No knowledge, No desire?" ... Who was the student that asked Charlie Barnet for autographs and was refused? ... That Barnet is certainly a congenial fellow ... We say Shillelaghs to you Mr. Barnet. We are expressing our views and not the papers, Charlie ... What's this we hear about the boys from Delta Mu writing the fine speech that was delivered by their House Mother? That's alright fellas we know that you are angels ...

Fr. McIsaac is offering prizes for the best yarn on how he got that banged up proboscis. Moral seems to be - never go to sleep in a car someone else is driving.

With our new officers elected, and our New Constitution things are ready to roll for next year. It is up to us to keep an eye on these men and see that they represent us in the best manner. We think that the biggest job in campus politics is that of representing a class or club in the Student Council. There is one thing that the New Constitution does not state too clearly and that is not only does a Representative from a club look out for the interest of that club but also represents every student here at St. Michael's College. This spirit must be pointed out to the new members if they are to continue holding a seat on the Council. He must uphold the Constitution that reads: "To actively promote whatever contribution to the common good of the student body." Under this section of the Constitution representatives are compelled to have the interest of each student when he cast his vote.

Shamrocks and Shillelaghs

Shamrocks to the Junior class for there fine cooperation in running the Prom. It is too bad that more men like George Rodden, Ed Casey, Art Fraser, Clem Shaw and many others are not in the other three classes. We're sure this Class of '50 will go down in the history of the College as being one of the hardest working.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the MICHAELMAN:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank in particular all the members of the Junior class whose effort, labor and cooperation were the deciding factors in making the Junior Prom the outstanding social success of the current year. Such a large undertaking was difficult enough on paper, but the actual work involved both before and after was executed with the spirit that has made the class of '50 famous. To those key committee men who worked tirelessly in their particular job, congratulations on a fine job and -- thanks.

As chairman of this dance, I would like to express in the name of the Junior Class appreciation to the Student Activities Council for their confidence in backing this dance; to those members of the other classes who helped in decorating and arranging; to Mr. Billings and all the workmen for their splendid cooperation and help; to Mr. Buchan for his advice and liberal aid; to the waiters, check-room operators, doormen, etc., for their smooth and professional job of actually running the dance; to Clem Shaw for his detailed and exceptional job in handling the financial affairs; and finally, to Bob Flanagan and the MICHAELMAN staff for their outstanding coverage not only of the dance but also of the entire Week-End.

George R. Rodden

By FRASER

Tony Cauley

We can honestly say that last weekend was a tremendous success, everything included. The prom, skits etc., were superbly handled and anyone having a hand in the proceedings comes in for a well deserved thanks from the entire school.

The week-end would have been complete if the baseball team could have turned back those ever dangerous Panthers, but if you were there Saturday, you could have seen that the boys from down-state don't fool around when they drag out their heavy artillery. What a display of power. Each man who stepped into the batters-box in that boom-boom inning looked bigger than the man who batted before, and hit the ball a little farther. Just so long as they hit the ball that hard, there's no worry about where the Vermont State Baseball Conference Championship will lie.

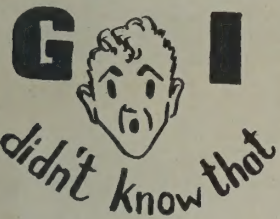

GOOD HIT, NO PITCH

Don Naples and Billy Hart are sure hitting that ball hard. The same can be said for a few of the other Knights, Tommy Sullivan and Diz Dean included, but the pitching has certainly been unsteady. We can see now how disastrous that early season injury was to Angi Firoini. Then too, Joe Pattison came up with a sore shoulder, which has restricted his play to the infield. With these two men in good shape Coach Doc would have a well-rounded pitching staff. As it is now, the boys toiling on the hill look overworked.

ZITER LEADS

The golf team travelled to Boston last weekend to compete in the New England Collegiate Open, but they didn't have much luck. A 77 was needed to qualify for the playoffs, and the nearest to this was Mike Ziter who carded a 79. Maybe the boys were thinking of the good time they were all missing.

A quick look at the major league standings will show that this column's pick in the National League isn't doing so hot at the present time. But who would have figured the Giants into it? Maybe Leo Durocher knew what he was doing when he took on Freddie Fitzsimmons as a coach. Fat Freddie might be just what the Giants needed in the way of a coach for their pitching staff. If Hartung, Kennedy and Co., keep it up, the pologrounders are a cinch with all their power. However, it's early, and we still think the Dodgers' speed and youth will win out in the stretch months of August and September.

Increases in subsistence allowances to GI trainees because of dependency are effective as of the date the evidence establishing the dependency is actually received by the Veterans Administration, Charles L. Jacobs, Manager of the Vermont VA Center, said today.

Veterans in training who have a change in marital status or in number of dependents should, therefore, furnish such proof of dependency to the VA as soon as possible, in order to avoid any delay in receiving increased subsistence allowances for dependents.

Jacobs pointed out that this regulation applies also to veterans who are re-entering GI training. If they acquired dependents after they terminated their training, they, too, must submit proof of dependency when re-entering training, or stand to lose subsistence allowances for these dependents until such evidence is actually received by the VA.

LIFE INSURANCE

A disability income clause may be added to any term or permanent form of National Service Life Insurance subject to application, payment of a small additional premium, and good health requirements, Mr. Olney W. Hill, insurance officer at the Veterans Administration Center, White River Junction, Vermont, said today.

The clause provides, in case of total disability lasting six continuous months, for both waiver of premiums (the right to stop premium payments) and a monthly income to the insured of five dollars per $1,000 of insurance in force.

A veteran with $10,000 of NSLI, Hill explained, who becomes totally disabled for a period of six consecutive months will receive a monthly income check of $50 as long as he is totally disabled, and he need not pay additional insurance premiums to keep his policy in force.

Squires Win 18-5
Landslide Over Vt.

This Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the St. Michael's Squires will play the Middlebury Freshmen, here at the Hill-top. In their first encounter St. Mike's beat the Panthers 9 to 2.

This is the final game of the year for the Frosh and if they beat Middlebury, Coach Steve Guter will have completed his first year of coaching, by piloting both the basketball and the baseball teams through undefeated seasons.

In their last two encounters the Squires have beaten Norwich, 10 to 2, and UVM, 18 to 5.

Sam Halle, making his first start of the year, pitched a five hitter against Norwich, while the St. Mike's batsmen chased three of the opposing hurlers.

Against the Vermont Kittens the Mikemen pushed across five runs in the second and six in the seventh to give Paul Powers his second victory of the year.

Knights Again In Tough Luck
With Midd, Beat Champlain

by WHIT BARTLETT

Pounding out 13 hits good for 35 total bases, the Middlebury College Panthers overwhelmed the Purple nine 12 to 8 last Saturday afternoon, before 1,500 Senior Weekend guests.

With the state conference lead at stake, the Knights pecked away at Fred Vetare's offerings to counter single runs in each of the first two innings while Jimmy O'Donnell was holding the big Midd guns at bay for three innings. In the fourth the roof fell in however. Wendy Forbes, leadoff man, drew a free pass and when the smoke had cleared eight batters later the Panthers had a 5-2 lead which they never lost. The Panthers hammered out a triple and three consecutive home runs in this frame before Joe Palermo finally managed to retire the side.

WILLIE HOMERS

Willie Hart smashed his second homer of the campaign in the fourth but Middlebury got one more in the fifth and two in the sixth, seventh, and eighth to sew up the victory despite the fact that the Knights rallied for five runs in the late innings.

The Panthers really had their hitting shoes on that afternoon as they got six home runs and two triples but it was really the fine support Vetare had in the field that spelled the difference as he was hit hard all afternoon but was saved by some fielding gems behind him.

Willie Hart and Don Naples had three hits each for St. Michael's while Joe Pattison and Tom Sullivan chipped in with two. Naples' three safeties enabled him to pass Middlebury's slugger Farrell in the race for the state batting crown.

BEAT CHAMPLAIN

On Monday the Purple Knights got back into the victory column with a 6-4 triumph over the Champlain College Bluejays.

The Purple had to outlast a ninth inning rally to win this one. They started fast and were in the van 6-0 going into the sixth inning before Jim Devaney's control failed him. Jim O'Donnell followed him to the hill and then Lefty Paul Galarneau. Joe Palermo finally finished up after the pesky Jays had pecked away until they had the tying runs on the bags in the ninth only to have a fast double play, Pattison to Dean preserve the win.

Diz Dean was the big gun in this one driving in four tallies with a two run homer and a screaming two run single. Joe Pattison, Ed Markey, and Tom Sullivan also chipped in with two safeties apiece and Pattison looked like the Pattison of old as he came up with some sterling plays at the hot corner.

Two Big Games Due
With Siena, Norwich

by RAY HOWLAND

Coming down to the last few games of the season, the Purple nine of St. Michael's College face two crucial tests in their drive for a successful season. Next Wednesday they travel to New York State to invade the home grounds of the powerful Siena College club, and on Saturday they face off against a not too strong Norwich University.

In the Siena squad the Purple Knights will probably find some high geared operatives as they are a school that has been facing some big time opponents.

Norwich, whom the Knights toppled earlier on the Winooski Park diamond, can be figured to give the Purple a rough time at Northfield. They are led by heavy hitters Art Biggio, Jack Lamarre and Buck Bovee. On the mound Bob Covey and Charlie Murphy can both be looked to for good performances.

In their previous meeting the Knights took the Horsemen 11-6 after overcoming a 0-6 Norwich lead.

lections. These were: "This is My Country," "Salutations," and "Still of the Night" while Cathleen Griffin of Trinity College sang a solo "Panis Angelicus."

The president and officers of this year's club said they wished to express their appreciation to Prof. William Burke, moderator of the Glee Club and associate Choral group, for "his sincere enthusiasm and guiding hand in all the affairs the club has undertaken this year."

Elaborating further Pres. Walter Wallace said "under his direction we have taken a great step forward not only in bringing musical programs to the college but in fostering a spirit of loyalty and cooperation among the members."

Guimond's Speech At Boston Conference

The following speech, given by James Guimond at the Boston conference of the NFCCS, has been highly praised by such authorities as Archbishop Cushing of Boston.

For the students who are interested, the MICHAELMAN reprints it.

Our goal in all things of the intellect is truth.

But truth in the modern sense has two heads - the one which we know is right, and reject because it is difficult; and the other which we accept as being right - FOR US - because it is easy.

This relativistic intellectual and moral schizophrenia is the unique contribution of our day to the eternal confusion of the ages - perhaps its ONLY contribution - and we must resolve it.

St. Augustine tells that "truth reveals itself to him who lives well, prays well, studies well."

Nothing could be less circuitous than that. And it is a process much simpler to apply in reason to the business of living than all the fantastic formulae of modernism and dialectical materialism.

WHIPPED CREAM CATHOLICISM

Simple to apply, that is - If the Catholic college student were more intent on living well as a true Catholic, rather than as a pagan made different only by the whipped-cream frosting of his negative and "someday" Catholicism. - or, IF he were studying well to effect his own last end by good works and good example, rather than for the superficial good of "getting a better job."

No one has yet gained salvation by playing the hypocrite, the egomaniac, or the fool.

It seems brash presumption to question the popular conception of a Catholic as a man who is so busy proving the existence of sin that he hasn't the time to stop sinning; or, to go one step farther, as one who is so concerned with the business of EARNING a living that he hasn't the time to live.

It is difficult to challenge this definition of a Catholic for the simple reason that it was made BY Catholics. It is a clear definition of ourselves, made BY ourselves. Not through anything we DO, so much as through what we DON'T do.

To a non-Catholic, the most bewildering thing about Catholics is that they are NOT Catholic.

HELL ON AN ATOM

Through some mysterious process of group metabolism, we Catholics have acquired the vice of locking ourselves up in a parochial strait-jacket, wallowing in the splendidly detached complacency of our own self-righteous perfection, and letting the rest of the world go to hell on an atom.

We are too prone to subscribe to the popular fallacy that the word "revolutionary" can be applied only to communists. We assume anything radical to be, ipso facto, UN-Catholic, forgetting that radical in its true sense refers to a seeker after the roots of things, and that, while the super-foliage of the Church has at times wilted under the pressure of ulterior forces, it is from the unshakable ROOTS that we gather our strength. And we must remember that communism does not create our defects - it merely exploits them.

Christ is the true revolutionary. His purpose was NOT to maintain the status quo, but to overturn the world.

Thus - if the object of Christianity is to remake the world, then the only TRUE revolutionary is the Christian, living Christianity. We need leaders, then, and it is the aim of NFCCS to develop them.

ON THE OUTSIDE

At present, our concepts of leadership don't even have the dignity of being antiquarian. The Church has lived for more than two hundred years on the periphery of American culture. Nothing of American thinking reflects Catholic thought or doctrine. We are still not regarded as being a part of the city, but as partisan strangers within the city's gates.

Our vocation is to go down into the city. We must mediate the Christian spirit to it. We must turn our forces and energies to its tasks.

And out of it - we want to see a Catholicism that can talk out of the corner of its mouth; we want to see a Catholicism that is willing to get its hands dirty cleaning up the filth of the world; we want to see a Catholicism that prays humbly, gently, sincerely, earnestly to God; and we want to see a Catholicism which, when it rises from its knees, spits on its hands, and goes forth as a brave good man - to kick the world in the seat of its pants.

HOW TO BE A CATHOLIC

To be a Catholic is to dare.

It is to dare to have the courage of faith in a world whose essence is disbelief;

It is to have the strength to be right in a world where to be right is to be crucified;

It is to have the moral guts to speak the truth when fraud and deceit are the world's oyster;

It is to be sincere when sincerity is a ragged urchin down the lost roadways of the earth;

It is to storm the very gates of hell itself, with a smile on the lips, and a pure heart;

It is to go down into the city, unafraid, wearing God alone as a cloak, living the agonies of the dying, assuaging the anguish of the lost, the bitterness of the poor, the fear of the hurt and the dispossessed; It is to love - most of all, IT IS TO LOVE - to be a flame against hate, against the forces of evil that make man less than man; And it is to die, if necessary, not for a twisted concept or a futile cause, but for the truth that is eternal, and the life that is not measured by four walls of sky and a handful of dust.

That is the purpose of NFCCS. These are its only reasons for being.
